MEDITATION ON TODAY'S GOSPEL

[Jesus began to teach that his body was real food and his blood, real drink.] Because of this, many. . . followers. would not go with him anymore. So he asked the twelve disciples, "And you, would you also like to leave?" JOHN 6:66

The film Lady Sings the Blues portrays the life story of singer Billie Holliday. Diana Ross spent months preparing for her role as Billie. She read miles of print about Billie's life and listened to hours of Billie's songs. "I was committed to doing a good job," Diana said. "I tried very hard to know her as much as I could." Diana's commitment to make Billie live again on the screen is a model for my commitment to make Jesus live again in our world. It invites me to ask, Am I as loyal and faithful to Jesus as Diana was to Billie? As the twelve disciples were to Jesus?

Never let go of loyalty and faithfulness. Tie them around your neck; write them on your heart.

CRUCIAL CONVERSATIONS: PART FOUR

Fr. Tom has often recommended the book "Crucial Conversations" as a tool to help others grow in conversations with others especially when it centers around issues that often generate more heat than light. This series of articles offers summaries of the chapters.

Crucial Conversations: Tools for Talking When Stakes are High discusses how to handle disagreements and high-stakes communication. It is written on the premise that when you are stuck in any situation—whether it's at home or work—there is a crucial conversation keeping you from accomplishing the desired results. The authors studied successful communicators over a period of 25 years and concluded that what typically set them apart from the rest of the pack was their ability to deal with crucial conversations. They possess a skill-set that is easy to learn and allows them to face any situation with nearly anybody—no matter power, position, or authority.

Chapter 9: Move to Action: How to Turn Crucial Conversations into Action and Results The ultimate goal of dialogue is not just to create a healthy climate or even a clear understanding between parties. While both are helpful outcomes, both fall short of the real purpose: To get unstuck by taking the appropriate action. If you don't take action, all the healthy talk in the world is for nothing and will eventually lead to disappointment and hard feelings. Always agree on when and how follow-up will occur. It could be a simple e-mail confirming action by a certain date. It could be a full report in a team meeting. It could be just one report upon completion, or it could be progress checks along the way. Regardless of the method or frequency, follow-up is critical in creating action. There is no accountability if there is not an opportunity to account for action. Document your work. Effective teams and healthy relationships are supported by records of the important decisions made after difficult dialogues, and the assignments agreed upon. Good teams revisit these documents to follow up on both the decisions and the commitments. When someone fails to keep a commitment, candidly and directly discuss the issue with him or her. As you do so, everyone benefits in two ways. First, you increase the motivation and ability of the individual to do better. Second, you develop a culture of integrity in the team or relationship—letting everyone know that keeping commitments is an important value.

Chapter 10: Putting It All Together: Tools for Preparing and Learning This chapter helps with the daunting task of making dialogue tools and skills memorable and useable. If we first learn to recognize when safety is at risk and a conversation becomes crucial and that we need to take steps to Make It Safe for everyone to contribute his or her meaning, we can begin to see where to apply the skills we've learned. Using these tools and reminders will get us started in mastering the skills that help us improve our crucial conversations.

Chapter 11: Yeah, But: Advice for Tough Cases Many people think the skills in this book don't apply to the situations they care about most, but in truth, the dialogue skills discussed apply to just about any problem you can imagine. However, since some situations are more difficult than others, the authors chose seventeen tough cases and share solutions to each problem.

Chapter 12: Change Your Life: How to Turn Ideas into Habits In this chapter, the authors discuss several factors that affect the success of a crucial conversation as well as four principles for turning ideas into action. First, master the content. Learn to recognize what works and why, and how to break away from scripts, or pre-bundled phrases used in common conversations. Instead generate new scripts of your own. Second, master the skills. Understanding a concept isn't enough. While it's helpful, even necessary to talk the talk, you also have to be able to walk the talk. You have to be able to say the right words with the right tone and nonverbal actions. Third, enhance your motive. You must want to change. You have to move from a passive sense that it would be a good idea to change, to an active desire to seek opportunities. Ability without motive lies dormant and untapped. Fourth, watch for cues. To overcome surprise emotion, and scripts, you must recognize the call to action. This is usually people's biggest obstacle to change. If a problem doesn't cue your new skills, you'll return to your old habits without even realizing you missed a chance to try something new.

HAVE YOU SIGNED UP TO PRAY FOR VOCATIONS? The sign-up sheet is in the narthex. When it is your turn, Fr. Tom will give you the icon, a candle, and a load of information to ponder. When you return it the next week, another family will take it home and continue praying. Let's keep it going!

Thank you in advance for helping support "Life".

Catholic IQ Answers:

1. (d) Jesus' parables are a unique development of the rabbinic style of teaching.
2. (c) The three-year cycle of Matthew, Mark, and Luke begins in years divisible by three. The first Sunday of Advent 2004 (a year divisible by three) begins the next cycle. Parts of John's Gospel are read every year.
3. (b) Besides texts of the Bible, the scrolls discovered in the late 1940s show a type of monastic life lived by the Essenes. From 150 BC to 70 AD this community was devoted to study and prayer.
4. (a) Paul's first letter to the Thessalonians was written about 50 AD. Mark, chronologically according to many scholars, the first of the Gospels, was written in the decade 60-70 AD.
5. (b) The story of this anointing of Jesse's youngest son is told in 1 Samuel 16.
6. (b) Rebecca was Isaac's wife and the mother of twins, Jacob and Esau (Gen. 25:19-26).
7. (a) The book by the Jewish writer Jesus ben Sirach is often called "Ecclesiasticus," meaning "used in the church," because this book was used so often to instruct catechumens and the faithful in Christian values and wisdom. It is not in Protestant Bibles and is easily confused with Ecclesiastes, which is in Protestant Bibles and which includes the famous passage, "For everything there is a season, a time to be born and a time to die." (Ecclesiastes 3:1)
8. (c) Moses was not permitted to enter the Promised Land because of his sin at Meribah. Instead, his faithful lieutenant Joshua took the lead. (See Deuteronomy 32:51 and Joshua 1.)
9. (d) The symbols of the four evangelists are taken from the vision of Ezekiel (1:10 and repeated in Revelation 4:7), of a human being, a lion, an ox, and an eagle. Because John's Gospel soars upward in contemplation of Jesus, the eagle became his symbol.
10. (c) This important event is related only in Acts, Chapter 2.

From the Lighthouse Catholic CD Rack: Narthex

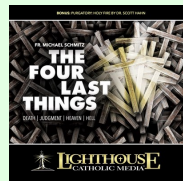

In this talk, Jeff Cavins shares how he has come to see that Jesus wants us to surrender every bit of our own comfort to follow Him. There are many fans of Jesus in this world, but we are called to be His disciples.

As a young adult, Jeff left the Catholic Church and became a Protestant Pastor for 12 years. After returning to the Catholic Church, he became a nationally known speaker who has helped thousands come to a clearer understanding of Scripture and our Faith.

What a great talk and a wonderful reminder for all of us to be sure we truly behave as a follower of Jesus and not just a fan of Jesus! Jeff Cavins has a unique way of inspiring people of all ages!!! Mary - Lindstrom, MN

From the Lighthouse Catholic CD Rack: Narthex

Fr. Mike Schmitz is one of the leading Catholic speakers in the Church today. Fr. Mike tackles four very difficult topics in this exceptional presentation: Death, Judgement, Heaven, and Hell. Listen to this talk and finally get the answers to the question: "What Happens When I Die?"

Following the main presentation, Lighthouse has provided a bonus from the talk Purgatory: Holy Fire by Dr. Scott Hahn. This bonus is part of the 6-CD set by Dr. Hahn titled Answering Common Objections. In his ever engaging and witty style, Father Mike answers the tough questions about Life and Death. I could listen to this talk over and over again for greater insights on Heaven and our purpose on this earth .Jill - Sycamore, IL

PRO-LIFE COMMITTEE NEED

The parish Pro-Life Committee is looking for some additional members. If you have a passion for the respect and the protection of all human life from conception to natural death, we would love to have you join us in this endeavor. The Pro-Life Committee works with the Archdiocesan Respect Life Committee to promote the sanctity of human life by keeping parishioners informed of pro-life educational and legislative activities and events. The committee meets quarterly. If you would like to join the committee or for additional information, please contact Bill Winters, 636-828-4133.

Please prayerfully consider working with us to help overcome the culture of death which is so prevalent in society today.

*"God doesn't require us to succeed;
He only requires that we try."*

-- Blessed Teresa of Calcutta
