MEDITATION ON TODAY'S GOSPEL

[Jesus] called the twelve disciples and sent them out to preach, saying, "Don't take anything with you on the trip except a walking stick." MARK 6:7-8

E. B. Washburne describes how General Grant embarked upon a crucial Civil War campaign: "All depended upon the quickness of the movement. It was important that Grant should be encumbered with as little baggage as possible. He took with him no orderly... nor an overcoat, not even a clean shirt. His entire baggage for the six days—I was with him at the time---was a toothbrush. He fared like the commonest soldier... sleeping on the ground with no covering except the canopy of heaven." Grant's example and Jesus' words invite me to ask, How simple and uncluttered is my life-style? How dependent am I on "things"?

Half the confusion of the world comes from not knowing how little we need.

Independence from Common Sense – Part II

Same Sex Unions – Loving Our Neighbor

Dear parishioners,

If you think varying opinions regarding race is a challenge, the topics of same sex unions, homosexuality and the nature of marriage are even more explosive.

Begin with the simple call to love our neighbor. That call is completely inclusive; there is no one that we are given a pass on loving. If you have questions about what that looks like in a relationship, please reread Paul's Letter to the Corinthians. Love is patient, kind, not jealous, not pompous or inflated. Love is not rude or obsessed with self-interest or a quick temper. Love does not brood over injury or rejoice over wrong-doing, but rejoices with the truth. That is the love we are called to embrace in all our relationships- first with God, then with our neighbors and finally ourselves. It begins with patience and ends with truth. Oddly enough this is the number one reading for weddings.

So you have a family member or good friend who is gay. What do you do? You love them. You treat them with respect. You treat them like the rest of your friends or family members. Sexual attraction is not a sin. We consider the norm to be heterosexual attraction. Why same sex attraction exists is still something of a topic of debate. Are people born with certain attractions, or do life experiences influence attraction? Again the attraction is not sinful; acting upon it is. In fact, anyone other than a husband and his wife as sexual partners is in a sinful relationship. More on this next week.

Let's be frank. I do not define people and my relationship to them by sexual activity or orientation. When I think of people I know, I think of their name, occupation and shared experiences that I have had with them. The only time sex or sexuality comes up is when they make it a point of conversation. It is then that I have to be prepared to state what I believe. If you ask, then be prepared to know my thoughts and what formed them.

This is where the crap hits the fan. If you normally talk with people whose belief in the definition of love is defined above, they can handle your opinion without losing it. If they believe in love as nothing more than a feeling and personal validation, be prepared for outrage. Many people think that disagreement is tantamount to condemnation. Disagreement and condemnation are two different realities. If you are talking with someone who can't even get past that first hurdle, you are better off ending the conversation and just praying for them.

Be prepared to be called close-minded, hateful, homophobic and unchristian. Our response is to embrace the call to love voiced by St. Paul, without being apologetic or ashamed of our beliefs as revealed to us by God. We have to realize that our culture is fostering an attitude of personal immaturity. The personally immature are very excitable, very self-involved and very ready to be offended or angered by disagreement. Immaturity cannot handle disagreement. Maturity can. Maturity can get very heated and still abide by St. Paul's definition of love. Immaturity blindly accuses others of all the attitudes that it espouses. Few things in life are more draining than angry immaturity. It takes a lot of prayer, patience and unapologetic charitable talk to address this prevalent attitude.

Peace,
Fr. Tom

NEWS
RELIGIOUS
DEPARTMENT

In this Archdiocesan "Year of Prayer" here are some ways that parents can help teach their children to pray. Make prayer a habit. Pray a morning prayer when you first wake up. Say grace before each meal. Pray before going to bed. Incorporate pray into as many key points of your day as you can. Make these prayers a habit even when you're in a public place. It can be challenging to pray in public, but we need to have the courage to do so.

Reflections on George Washington's Farewell Address September 17, 1796

It is good to periodically review the writings of the "fathers" both in Church history and in American history, especially in light of the times and court decisions in which we live. Their writings help shine a guiding light for future generations. The quote below is from Washington's farewell address. It is followed by a blog that summarizes 20 warnings from this address.

"And let us with caution indulge the supposition (uncertain belief) that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

Unheeded Warnings in Washington's Farewell Address

<http://blog.ganderson.us/2011/08/20-unheeded-warnings-by-george-washington/>

1. Be vigilant, people will seek to use the government for selfish ends.
2. Avoid overgrown military establishments; they are hostile to liberty.
3. Prevent all obstructions to the execution of the laws.
4. Control bureaucracies; make sure they all work together.
5. Avoid political parties; they will cause divisive factions and unscrupulous men will use them to undermine the government.
6. Give allegiance to the Constitution; improve it as necessary.
7. Do not alter the Constitution lightly, or based on hypothesis; apply the experience applied when it was created.
8. Be suspicious of administrators; they may serve themselves rather than the people.
9. Watch for consolidation of power in any department of government.
10. Preserve existing checks and balances and add more where power needs to be checked.
11. Religion and morality are essential to create the virtue necessary to preserve the union.
12. Promote widespread education; democracy requires literate citizens that understand the system of governance and take responsibility for themselves.
13. Avoid debt; and immediately discharge any debt created by war.
14. Taxes are unpleasant; government spending should be candidly conducted.
15. Cultivate peace and justice toward all nations.
16. Avoid alliances and maintain neutrality among nations.
17. Avoid dependency; a weak state that allies with a stronger state will become its servant.
18. Real patriots will resist intrigues, while dupes will surrender to interests.
19. In trade, give no nation a favored nation status. Be guided by principles, not interests.

HAVE YOU SIGNED UP TO PRAY FOR VOCATIONS? The sign-up sheet is in the narthex. When it is your turn, Fr. Tom will give you the icon, a candle, and a load of information to ponder. When you return it the next week, another family will take it home and continue praying. Let's keep it going!

PARENTS, do you encourage your children to develop their talents and gifts?

Do you encourage your children to think of Church ministry as a possible life choice?

ANSWERS TO CATHOLIC IQ

1. (c) The sacristy is the place where Mass vestments and vessels are kept and cared for. The person who is responsible for the vestments and vessels worn and used in our sacramental celebrations is called a sacristan. Sacristy and Sacristan derive from the Latin word for holy, sancte.
2. (c) The bride and groom are ministers of this sacrament, giving themselves to each other in front of witnesses. A priest or deacon is the official witness of the Church, an important part of the ceremony.
3. (b) Receiving the Body and Blood of Jesus under both forms is recommended as a fuller sign of Communion. However, anyone who receives either bread or wine alone receives Jesus wholly and entirely, body and blood, soul and divinity.
4. (a) Chrism is the name for a holy oil that contains balsam or balm, which gives it a distinctive and appealing fragrance. It is used in baptism, confirmation, and holy orders, and other liturgical anointings and blessings. The act of anointing with chrism is a chrismation. The Eastern Churches call the sacrament of confirmation "Chrismation." As was said above, Eastern Churches give the sacrament of confirmation to babies at the same time they are baptized.
5. (d) A legal divorce does not automatically excommunicate either party. Nor does an annulment affect the legitimacy of the children.
6. (b) Anointing the sick is not reserved for those who are at the point of death. Prayer for healing is an important part of the rite for this sacrament. Anyone who is seriously ill or facing major surgery may ask for the anointing of the sick.
7. (d) One sacrament, many names and many graces! It is also called the sacrament of conversion because it makes present Jesus' call to constant conversion in our lives.
8. (d) Individual confession and absolution still take place. General absolution is reserved for groups in serious danger of death, such as troops going to war.
9. (c) St. John Nepomucene (1345-1393) refused to tell the King of Bohemia the sins confessed by the Queen and was later ordered to his death. The confessional "seal" means no priest may reveal anything told to him during this sacrament.
10. (b) From the Latin, it means the bread you take "with you for the journey."

Thank you!

I'd like to thank all of our many friends for their prayers and good wishes when I needed them most.

From the Parish Library: Stoltz Grand Hall

Bravissimo! For the creative work offered by Fr. Barron, who gives us not only an incomparable wealth of Church Teaching, but by engaging us in a meditative and contemplative approach to the Mystery of God; as a mystagogue therefore --- he has the gift of leading us into the Mysteries of Christianity and with the capacity of moving us to prayer! I thoroughly enjoyed his approach to "The Seven Deadly Sins, Seven Lively Virtues" --- it is a fine rendering of the meaning of Dante's magnificent "Purgatorio", and, more importantly, for both the Poet and the Priest, an inspiring expose' of the Gospel: The Sermon on the Mount! We are making all of Fr. Barron's inspiring material available to our Parishioners!

One of the most challenging but practical guides I have seen. If you are looking for a way to go deeper with Christ and grow in holiness, this video will inspire you. Be prepared to be "pricked" but also motivated. (From reviews on amazon.com)

From the Parish Library: Stoltz Grand Hall

This DVD is something that I believe every couple needs. My husband and I have benefited from watching it and reading the book in so many ways. Now that we know each other's love language we are able to communicate like we never have before. It is amazing how something so simple can make such a huge difference. :) Oh, and he is funny! That was a big plus for me. This product was excellent in presentation and in content matter. A must have for those who are having difficulties in their marital relations, and essential for those who are enjoying marital Bliss. Before spending hundreds of dollars seeking marriage counselling one would be well advised to take a look at the contents of this CD, it may prove the most invaluable thing you do. For those who simply wish to either add a new dimension to their intimate relations with their spouse or simply to learnt a new perspective that would enhance their already fulfilling relationship this is a very affordable way to do so. PLEASE HELP THE EMMAUS HOME— We have welcomed the Emmaus Bell Choir as part of our Epiphany Concert for several years. Now there is a plan in place to close the Marthasville Emmaus Home by 2020. The families of residents of that campus and many others in the community strongly believe there are better alternatives than closing the campus. However, they need time to bring their ideas to fruition and are seeking the public's support. Petitions are available at tables in the Narthex if you wish to support the families in asking the Board of Directors to rescind their decision to close. For more information see the website: www.SaveEmmaus.com

The deadline for signing the petition is July 15.

Dynamic Catholic, Alive! – Holy Orders

What is the Sacrament of Holy Orders? "It is the Sacrament through which the mission entrusted by Christ to his Apostles continues to be exercised in the Church until the end of time." There are three degrees of holy orders: bishops (episcopate), priests (presbyterate), and deacons (diaconate). When a priest is ordained, he is anointed by the Holy Spirit with an indelible mark uniting him with Christ. This week, take some time to pray for priests and an increase in vocations in the Archdiocese of St. Louis. archstl.org/dynamic
